Craig Wessel, Publisher of the Portland Business Journal stated "We wanted to create an award to recognize organizations who have been on our list five consecutive years or more. It is truly an accomplishment for organizations to continually generate outstanding growth year after year. This year only seven organizations qualified for this special recognition."

"Success is a "we" activity. It is not achieved by one individual; it is the product of everyone's effort," said Judy Clark, president and owner of HRA. "This is especially true when success is sustained over several years. The Lighthouse Award, honoring our six consecutive years of high growth, is something that we are all very proud of. It is a direct result of the effort, energy, imagination, and commitment of our staff. Significant growth within an organization brings its own set of issues and challenges.
